

ABSTRACT

A cutting [operation that is a finishing grinding pretreatment] tool provides a device for cutting a plate glass corner, [treatment is provided which includes, a construction such as the opening and closing of upper and lower blades cutting] The structure includes upper and lower blades which are opened and closed to cut the plate glass, [by the respective upper and lower blades.] The upper and lower blade edge lines [of the same upper and lower blades] mutually oppos[ing (]e each other[) in the upper and lower blade edge section of] to form a cutter body [that is formed in an almost] having a scissor shape[; and]. The [same] upper and lower blade edge lines [almost] also coincide [to] with the planned cut line of the corner section of the plate glass.